DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' response, filed 4 June 2007, has been fully considered. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

Claims 10, 14-18, 21, 23, and 24 are currently pending. Claims 1-9, 11-13, 19, 20, and 22 have been cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 24 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claim 24, as amended, continues to recite "a plant genome comprising the recombinant nucleic acid construct of claim 23. The specification fails to provide a description of a genus that represents all plant genomes, and therefore the claim lacks written description. Further, the specification does not provide support for the breadth of the recombinant molecule now recited. The specification describes transformed plants comprising nucleic acids with specific parts (A),

Art Unit: 1631

(B), and (C) at pages 39-41 and in original claim 6. However, there is no support for a plant genome which comprises a recombinant molecule without the portions and therefore, claim 24 lacks written description in the specification as originally filed. /

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 10, 14-18, 21, 23, and 24 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention, for the reasons set forth in the previous Office Action.

Response to Applicant's Arguments

1. Applicant argues that, "the specification as filed clearly discloses that SEQ ID NO: 1 has transcription factor activity. See, for example, Specification at page 32, lines 12 to 15. Moreover, Table A of the specification discloses that SEQ ID NO: 1 has 100% identity to a known transcription factor". Applicant goes on to argue that the Examiner countered the support by arguing that the alignment between SEQ ID NO: 1 and the known transcription factor is only 83.4%" and that the "Examiner relies on Bork et al. to support the position that gene function and protein function based on alignment is unpredictable".

Art Unit: 1631

Applicant contends that “a rigorous correlation need not be shown in order to establish practical utility; reasonable correlation is sufficient (citing Fujikawa v. Wattanasin, 93 F.3d 1559, 1565 (Fed. Cir. 1996)).

This is not persuasive. Page 32, lines 12 to 15 states that “the present invention also provides a substantially purified maize, soybean or Arabidopsis thaliana homeobox transcription factor or fragment thereof encoded by a nucleic acid sequence selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1 through SEQ ID NO: 49, SEQ ID NO 1415 through SEQ ID NO: 1555 and SEQ ID NO: 1746 through SEQ ID NO: 2000”. The specification does not teach the specific transcription factor activity of SEQ ID NO: 1.

Further, the Examiner maintains that the cited reference of Bork clearly demonstrates that gene function and protein function based on alignment is unpredictable, for the reasons set forth in the previous Office Action. In addition, SEQ ID NO: 1 is only 320 nucleotides long, whereas full-length Arabidopsis homeobox transcription factors are generally over 900 nucleotides long (see Schena et al. PNAS (1994) Vol. 91, pages 8393-8397). Thus, SEQ ID NO: is unlikely to function.

Conclusion

The outstanding rejections under 35 USC 112, 2nd paragraph are withdrawn in view of the amendments to the claims.

No claims are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
